

LOCAL COMPANY SCOOPS THE DOUBLE AT NATIONAL AWARDS

Well regarded family run Wakefield company Ashtree Roofing became double award winners on Thursday 4th November, at the National Home Improvement Council (NHIC) Annual Awards.

This was the first time Ashtree Roofing had entered the awards, which have been going for 36 years and so were undoubtedly thrilled to not only be walking away with the first place award for Roofing Excellence for their outstanding work on Brookhouse Crescent in Wakefield, but also for becoming the overall NHIC winner.

This special NHIC honour is presented to a company that has completed a project that most closely fulfils the objectives of the National Home Improvement Council, which stands for the promotion of home improvement and energy efficiency, they are selected from all the winners and finalists from all the categories of the NHIC Awards and clearly represents an outstanding level of achievement.

The Judges said of Ashtree's work on Brookhouse Crescent: "This is a very impressive sweeping curved roof in hook fixed natural slates. For it to be successful it needed extra special attention to each individual slate's dimensions. And this was carried out with care and precision."

Qualities that this professional, experienced and highly dedicated company stand for.
