

SOPHIE PROCUREMENT COORDINATOR

LONGWORTH BUILDING SERVICES, ST HELENS

Sophie is Procurement Coordinator at Longworth, a leading contractor for the full building envelope and winner of two 2020 UK Roofing Awards. With the company working on a wide variety of large projects, from town halls to train stations to colleges, Sophie says the key to the appeal of her work is that no two days are ever the same.

I love that my job never feels repetitive. I talk to different people, work on different projects, and there's always something new to learn.

I'm proud of what I've achieved in this industry: that includes being nominated for a SHEQ Award, and successfully handling procurement for an important multi-million pound project.

This work is not the construction people think it is, stereotypically. The word 'construction' can be daunting, but I work with a lot of great people who come from a background outside construction and do a great job.

It's also really encouraging that at Longworth we've seen the number of female staff grow massively in the three years I've been here. The image of the typical man in construction is usually far from the truth.
