

EMBARGOED 20:00 - 20/05/2015

NFRC ANNOUNCES THE NEXT CEO

Following the announcement earlier this year of NFRC Chief Executive, Ray Horwood, to retire from the CEO post, a comprehensive search for a successor has been undertaken by the NFRC Board that has resulted in a strong list of applicants.

The NFRC Board are pleased to announced that James Talman, current CEO of the Single Ply Roofing Association (SPRA), has been selected from this extensive list of candidates to take on the leadership of NFRC at the end of the year, after a transition period with the current incumbent.

The appointment is endorsed by the SPRA leadership and will help cement the ever closer relationship between the two organisations. NFRC President, Andrew Turnbull, stated that the current CEO Ray Horwood would be greatly missed but James Talman had a wide experience with an excellent knowledge of the roofing industry and was an ideal replacement to lead NFRC in its progressive work to support members and to further promote the industry.

[165]

[ENDS]

Media enquiries:

Laura Mason
PR & Marketing Coordinator
Phone: 0207 448 3187
Email: lauramason@nfrco.co.uk

[IMAGE CAPTION] James Talman, CEO of SPRA set to take up the helm of NFRC later this year.

Note to Editor:

NFRC is the UK's largest roofing trade association representing over 70% of the roofing industry by value. NFRC actively ensures that members offer high standards of workmanship and sound business practice through a strict code of practice and vetting procedure, including site inspections and adhering to the Government endorsed TrustMark standards. NFRC also offers training services, technical advice, and represents member interests to the wider construction industry and Government. For more information please visit www.nfrc.co.uk.