ROOFING AWARDS 2013 – NEARLY HERE

In under a month's time the roofing industry will come together to find out who will be walking away with a coveted Roofing Award accolade.

On Friday 17th May the winners for the 2013 Roofing Awards will be announced at a glittering event hosted this year by BBC Breakfast presenter Susanna Reid, she will be joined on the stage by NFRC Chief Executive Ray Horwood.

The Awards recognise and reward not only outstanding projects in all roofing disciplines but also individuals for their dedication to Health and Safety and training, and young roofers for their commitment and hard work in roofing competitions. Whilst we wait to find out who has won, you can check out this year's finalists, chosen charity and so much more on the dedicated awards site page <http://bit.ly/roofingawards2013>.

Notes to Editor:

1. Roofing Awards are now into their 8th year, originally known as the NFRC Roofing Awards, before changing to Roofing Awards in 2010.
2. Brings together Trade Associations and organisations who strive to promote and endorse excellence.
3. The Awards are comprised of 12 categories, with 48 finalists.
4. NFRC is the UK's largest roofing trade association representing over 70% of the roofing industry by value. NFRC actively ensures that members offer high standards of workmanship and sound business practice through a strict code of practice and vetting procedure, including site inspections and adhering to the Government endorsed TrustMark standards. NFRC also offers training services, technical advice, and represents member interests to the wider construction industry and Government. For more information please visit www.nfrc.co.uk.
